Built-in Desk Seating

Try this very popular product today!

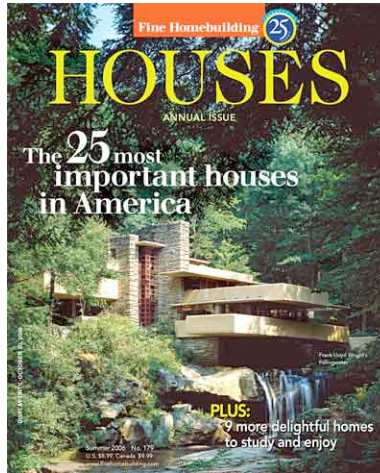

Many homeowners enjoy the elegance, style, convenience and functionality of suspended bar seating. These same benefits apply to built-in desk seating.

In addition, the installation process is even easier!

Rising Prices

First price increase in 8 years

With the increased costs of steel, transportation and oil-based products, we reluctantly increased our prices effective July 1, 2006. We continually look for ways to mitigate increases in cost-of-goods and will stay true to our pricing philosophy of providing valuable products at the best possible prices.

Seating Innovations in a 21st Century Farmhouse

“Although we designed the breakfast bar to accommodate our three sons for breakfast or an after-school snack, we were concerned that traditional bar stools would not be a good fit for them. We envisioned the stools tipping over, scratching the floor, or breaking.

Then we found Seating Innovations bar-stools, which hang from a steel support under the countertop. Not only do they rotate left and right like standard barstools, but the whole assembly also pivots away from the bar to make getting into the seats easy, for adults as well as kids.” (Michael Hopwood, Fine Homebuilding, Summer 2006, pages 90-94).
